What Scott's Emulsion Has Done

Over 25 Pounds Gain in 10 Weeks
Experience of a Prominent Citizen.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF VICE,
SAN FRANCISCO, July 7th, 1886.

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis, and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians ordered me to a more congenial climate, and I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my avordupois went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased.

Route of the Canadian Pacific.

Contractors have begun active work on the bridge across Fraser river forty miles east of New Westminster, B. C. Surveys are completed to the American boundary, and the construction of the road will begin within a week. This is the route by which the Canadian Pacific will make American connections. The Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, on which work is now going forward from Tacoma, will be met at the boundary line. Connections will be made before the summer is over.

Age of the Fork.

How many know that forks are of a comparative late date? Queen Bess never heard of a fork, although she ate fruit from a prong. For many years after her time dinner forks were unknown in England during the reign of Charles II. The few early forks in the reign of George I. are pronged. Before the days of forks, the ewer and basin were used which contained water for forks to dip in, as they disappeared. They are now reintroduced in the shape of finger bowls.

A Two-Year-Old With a 218 Record.

A horseman who recently saw Sunol, the California trotting wonder, says: She is not big-gaited, goes very close to the ground, the action being all in her ankles apparently. There is not an ounce of superfluous flesh about her, and she is muscles just all over. It may trotter living beats the record of Maud S., 2.083, it will be Sunol. This remarkable colt has a trotting record as a two-year-old of 2.18.

World's Sunday School.

The largest and most important gathering of representative Sunday school workers the world has ever known will meet in London July 2d, 3d, 4th and 5th. Six hundred and fifty delegates are expected to go from countries far and near. The Cunard Line has already been chartered to take the delegates from New York to Liverpool and a special train to take them from Liverpool to London.

Decidedly Fishy.

The Captain of the fishing schooner C. H. White, while fishing for halibut in the North Pacific, claims to have been towed in a circle within fifteen miles from where he started by a whale over eighty-four feet in length, which had become entangled in the vessel's cable. The crew vouches for the truth of this story.

Value of Railroads.

It is figured out that the railroads of the world are worth nearly $300,000,000, or nearly one-tenth of the entire wealth of the civilized nations, or more than a quarter of their invested capital, and that all the ready money in the world would buy only about one-third of them.

Not a Good Fit.

A fashionable young woman in New York has undergone a remarkable surgical operation, long and painful, by which her tip tilted nose became an organ of pure Grecian design. The cruel charge is made that the new nose does not suit the general conformation of her face.

Life Too Short.

One very comfortable piece of statistics has been furnished by the Chautauquian Association, to the effect that over three thousand years would be required for any one person to read all the literary works now in existence that are recognized as standard.

Wealthy Americans.

It is estimated that there are five American citizens who are worth $50,000,000 each; fifty worth $10,000,000 each; 100 worth $5,000,000 each; 200 worth $3,000,000 each; 500 worth $1,000,000 each; and 1,000 worth $500,000 each.

They Come High.

Statistics make it appear that there are 5,500 lawyers in New York city whose aggregate fees and incomes amount to something over $3,000,000 a year. Lawyers come high, but we must have 'em, it seems.

Body Identified.

The body of the murdered woman found in the Rio Grande at Eagle Pass, Texas, has been identified as Mrs. Williamson, who with two daughters and a son came from San Saba county. No doubt all were murdered.

Historical County.

Thomas county, Kansas, was named in honor of General George H. Thomas, and all the townships of the county were named in honor of soldiers of the Eighth Kansas Infantry killed at Chickamauga.

Extensive Tree Planting.

The Pomona (Cal.) Progress states that over 95,000 navel orange trees, 20,000 olive trees and 12,000 fig trees have been planted in that locality during the past few weeks, while the planting season is not yet half over.

Preparing to May.

The Mexican Government is erecting stone barracks for troops at the Santa Clara gold fields in Lower California, evidently believing that the place has a future.

Thousands of Dollars

Are spent every year by the people of this State for worthless medicines for the cure of throat and lung diseases, when we know that if they would only invest $1 in SANTA ARIBA, the new California discovery for Consumption and kindred complaints, they would in this pleasant remedy find relief. Railroad Obligations.

Mr. C. P. Huntington still clings to the idea that railroad property is not different from other property, and that if a State or government has the right to establish railroad freights, it has the right to confiscate property. This is the theory that the Central and Southern Pacific managers have always clung to, but it is not correct; it would, if acknowledged, take from the railroads all the obligations of common carriers. A charter for a railroad is an implied contract. On the one hand the Government, in effect, says the railroad company: "We give you the privilege of destroying the stage and freight lines, the country hotels, the wagon and blacksmith shops—all the business that comes of carrying on a traffic through a region. We do this for the general good, that a greater number may be accommodated and that markets may be made for products of the interior, far away to be hauled by teams." In return the company, in effect, covenants as follows: "To carry passengers and freight at the lowest price on which a fair profit may be realized, and not to discriminate against either individuals or places, and moreover, inasmuch as mortals are selfish, and as the road is a thing which draws tribute from every person and every class of persons, we acknowledge the authority of the power which gives us this charter to hold a perpetual check upon us to see that we fulfill our covenants." The existence of a railroad, says the Salt Lake Tribune, depends upon the help of the State. Without it, any man owning land over which a company desired to build a road, could permanently defeat its purpose. It is the creature of the State, and is not only dependent upon it for life, but subject to its control. On Mr. Huntington's idea, no road could ever be built, and, if built, could never be honestly conducted. A road can never shake off either its independence upon or obligations to a State.

SECRETARY WINDOM has definitely given out that it is his intention to use the money in the Treasury in excess of the requirements of the Government to extinguish the interest-bearing indebtedness. At the same time he declares that he will make his purchases of bonds in such a fashion as to prevent holders making an undue profit by surrendering. In other words, he proposes going into the market for the purpose of purchasing whenever a warrant his doing so, and not otherwise. If this policy is closely adhered to it will result in a great diminution of the national debt, and consequently the fixed charge for interest, and put the United States on a financial footing immeasurably superior to that of any other nation in the world.

THE CARSON APPEAL truthfully remarks:

"Would it not be a good idea for the Democratic press to judge John Wanamaker, Postmaster General, by his acts as the head of the Postal Department of the nation? This is the only way he can be judged."

No department of the Government service needs more of an overhauling than our wretched Postoffice system. Under Democratic mismanagement and false economy the postal system of the United States became the laughing stock of everybody who did not curse it from the rising of the sun to the going down of the same.

John Wanamaker has the business capacity to lift it out of the rut, and would it not be a good idea to let him get to work and repair the breaks in the fences?"

MANY of our contemporaries continue to insist that Lucky Bill is really dead, and that the boulders discovered in his coffin by a GAZETTE reporter and others are nothing less than his petrified remains.

KEMPINSKI, the Russian-American who is awaiting transportation to Siberia, and whose liberation has been asked for by the Secretary of State at Washington, will be immediately released.

THE LATEST FROM SAMOA.

Suicide of a Young Woman at Davisville, Cal.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.

Loss of an Unknown Ship.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A search is being made to trace the identity of the vessel whose wreckage was passed by the steamer Colorado on Saturday have so far failed. The agents of the steamer Conserva, which sailed from here a week ago for Samana, deny that the wreckage is that of their vessel. They say that it does not correspond in any particular to that of their vessel. The agents of the Clyde Line steamer Saginaw also denied that the wreckage belonged to their vessel. A possible clew to the shipwreck was given by two incoming vessels this morning. The Athos Line steamer Athos, from Port Limon, which arrived early today, reports having passed last Saturday at noon a white painted steamer, disabled and bound south, showing German colors.

The brig Lockart, which also got in this morning from San Domingo, brings more definite reports of the ship in distress. The Lockart's Captain said that on March 19th, in latitude 36° 45' north and longitude 73° 0' 51" west, he saw the British steamer Yonamond in a disabled state. The Yonamond had a heavy list to starboard, her decks were on a line with the water, her machinery was disabled and her sail blown away. The disabled vessel displayed a series of signals indicating distress, and hoisted a request to have her condition telegraphed to the English Lloyds. The Yonamond left New Orleans for Rouen, France, on March 3d.

On the Maritime Exchange to-day it was thought probable the vessel had gone down, and that the raft and driftwood passed by the Colorado on Saturday was all that was left to tell the story of her destruction.

From the descriptions of the wreckage it is believed the lost vessel is the gunboat Conerva, which had so much trouble in getting away from this port because she was suspected of being intended for the Haytian insurgents.

Authentic News from Samoa.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Captain Schoonmaker, commanding the Vandalia, reports to the Navy Department, under date of February 23d, the arrival of the Vandalia, under his command, at Apia, Samoa, the day previous. He found in port the Nipic, H. B. M. ship Calliope, and the German corvettes Adler, Olga and Eber. Everything had been quiet since the last reports from Samoa sent home, and Commodore Mullan, having prepared a full report of the condition of affairs in the Islands, it would go by the same date. The Trenton had not arrived. Commander Mullan, commanding the Nipic, reports under date of February 22d, that H. B. M. ship Calliope arrived on February 2d and relieved the Royalist. The English paper, the Samoan Times, had resumed publication. On February 11th a severe gale visited the harbor, during which the American barkentine Constitution, was driven ashore and became a total wreck. Everything possible was done to save the barkentine. The second cutter of the Nipic, in charge of Ensign W. P. White, took off the captain and crew. The Constitution was owned by Nicholas Richard of San Francisco. She was built at Philadelphia years ago and was formally a steamer, but was rebuilt in 1873 at San Francisco. Other smaller vessels are reported to have gone ashore on the west end of Upolu Island. Affairs at Apia have been very quiet since the last dispatch to the department. On the 5th of February, Herr Brandeis, a British subject, and President of the so-called Tamasee Government, is reported to have resigned and left for Sydney in the merchant steamer Lubeck. On the 22d of February the Nipic dressed the ship in honor of the anniversary of Washington's birth, and the foreign men-of-war joined in. The indications are that the Tamasee party is losing ground.

German Penal Laws.

BERLIN, March 25.—The new penal code provides that persons found guilty of inciting one class against another, or publicly attacking the bases of public and social order, especially religions, monarchy, marriage or property, shall be imprisoned for a term not exceeding three years. Persons convicted of a second offense may be forbidden to reside in certain places. Newspapers which have been twice convicted of any of the offenses mentioned in the code shall be suppressed. Socialists who have been expelled from the country shall not be allowed to return within five years after the adoption of the code, unless by special permission of the police.

An Entire New Deal.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—Information comes from Florence, Ala., that a controlling interest in the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railway Co. has been sold to Messrs. Abram S. Hewitt, Edward Cooper, Mr. Murphy and others of New York. The company is the largest and wealthiest corporation doing business in the South. It is said an entirely new Board of Directors will be elected on April 1st.

Died When Almost Home.

CHICAGO, March 25.—John Stocka, a consumptive, who has been in California trying to recover his health, expired this morning on a Rock Island train, just a few minutes before the depot was reached. He had been for some months on the Pacific Slope, but seeing that his recovery was impossible, expressed a wish to die in his old home, and accordingly started for the East.

Hard Times at Panama.

PANAMA, March 25.—The condition of affairs on the Isthmus have been critical for some weeks past, and, as already reported, everything has worn a gloomy aspect. Thousands of men were thrown out of work, and it is expected before a month will have elapsed, at least 5,000 will have been sent hence. Commercial matters all over the Isthmus are in a bad condition and there is little business doing. Colon stockholders and dealers have united in petitioning for a reduction in all kinds of taxes, owing to the complete stoppage of business in the city.

In the City of Panama things are much in the same condition. A meeting has been held by Panamanians and foreigners of different nationalities alike, and a decision was reached that the supreme government be petitioned to reduce the commercial contribution which is enormously high as compared with the amount of business which is being done.

An instance of the condition of affairs has been given by Governor Ayerdi, who has issued a decree suspending payment of debt of the former State of Panama and effecting other economies. Governor Ayerdi states that these measures have been adopted owing to the suspension of the work on the canal having reduced the receipts of the Government which will be further diminished, owing to the receipt from taxes similarly falling off.

In consequence of a collapse of the local freight and passenger traffic on the Panama Railroad, the number of employees have been considerably reduced. At present only two passenger and two freight trains cross the line daily from either end. This reduction in the traffic is, of course, due to the stoppage of the canal work.

Justice Mathews' Funeral.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The funeral services over the remains of the late Associate Justice Mathews were held this afternoon at his late residence. Dr. Handlin and Dr. Leonard officiated. The President and Cabinet, Justices of the Supreme Court and many members of Congress and other prominent persons were present. The remains were then carried to the Baltimore & Ohio station, and conveyed to Glendale, Ohio, for interment in the Spring Grove Cemetery.

During the ceremonies the face and bust of the deceased were exposed to view and presented a lifelike aspect. On the casket were bunches of Easter lilies and lilies of the valley, a laurel wreath and a large wreath of white roses, tied with a purple ribbon, from Justice and Mrs. Field. The piano in the room was covered with offerings from friends, the principal one being a massive pillow of white roses from President and Mrs. Harrison.

Among the earliest arrivals were the members of the Supreme Court who had seats in the apartment where the bier stood. Here also were the Presidential party. General Harrison entered with Mrs. Blaine, followed by Secretary Blaine with Mrs. McKee. The attendance of public personages and personal friends was unusually large. Among the latter was Rev. Father H. S. Cooney, of Notre Dame University, Indiana, who was Chaplain of Colonel Mathews' regiment during the war. The services were conducted by Rev. T. S. Hamlin of the Church of the Covenant. The party accompanying the remains to Cincinnati included Justice Lamar, Blatchford, Gray and Harlan.

JANAUSCHEK.

As She Appears in "Meg Merriles" to a Chicago Critic.
 Last evening, says the Chicago Telegram, a large number of admirers of profound and subtle art acting assembled at the Columbia to witness the world-renowned tragedienne Janauscheck in grand production of the musical and romantic play, a dramatization of Sir Walter Scott's novel of "Guy Mannering," entitled "Meg Merriles." The character of Meg Merriles is one calling for an artist thoroughly schooled and educated in the most difficult and arduous lines of professional labor and gifted with the genius peculiarly adapted to the interpretation of complex characters, being thus qualified in the higher ranks of dramatic art. Mine Janauscheck is eminently fitted to wear the mantle of the late Charlotte Cushman. She has a voice that thrills and electrifies, and by its pleading tones of anguish she wins from the strongest heart emotion and sympathy. She holds her audience spell-bound by more than wonderful magnetism and power of eloquence. After a long career she is still the true representative of the heroic in drama, still the great artist whose methods are models. She is an actress who combines in her own proper person an infinite variety of dramatic qualities. She has a power and emotional force greater than Ristori, a nervous and fiery temperament equal to Rachel, and a skill for elaboration and finish only equaled by Bernhardt. The story is well known to all readers of English fiction.

She will appear to-night at McKissick's Opera House, and if you have not already got your seat go see it.

Expand the Mind.

By seeing as much as you can of the world, but are you set out either as a tourist, commercial traveler or emigrant — whether you go by rail, steamship or steamer — you provide yourself with the best safeguard and preventive of any disease.

The traditional medicine recognizes as the finest medical safeguard and preventive of any disease with which any one journeying by land or water can be provided. It furnishes to the world the best preventive against malarial rheumatism, and those disorders of the bowels which minima tainted water beget. Its sedative effect upon a stomach perturbed by the use of a salutary medicine, and its capital astringent and nerve invigorator. Excellent is it for biliousness and kidney action, and it counteracts, in a remarkable manner, the effects of a physician's medicine. After wetting and exposure in inclement weather, it should be used as a preventive.

NO WANT OF NERVE.

A Man and Wife Sentenced to Death.
 Last Saturday's Elko Free Press contained the following account of the appearance of Mr. and Mrs. Potts, the Carlin murderers, when called for sentence: At fifteen minutes past 10 o'clock yesterday morning the defendants were brought into court to receive sentence. The court room was crowded, quite a number of ladies being present. Potts looked a little pale, and when he stood up to receive his sentence his lips quivered and something seemed to come up into his throat. He said not a word, but his attorney, Mr. Plummer, asked for a new trial, but the motion was overruled. Mrs. Potts came into the court looking as unconcerned as any of the spectators present, and when told to stand up, arose with a graceful movement and looked the Judge straight in the eye, while he was pronouncing sentence. When the awful words were spoken she never winced and not a muscle of her face moved.
